

JONATHAN BEAN.

JANUARY 12, 1832.

Mr. BURGESS, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to whom was referred the petition of Jonathan Bean, report:

In the case of Jonathan Bean, it appears, by the evidence, that he was a Captain in the army of the United States, in the late war; commanded a company of infantry of drafted militia, in the regiment of Colonel N. Fish, and was stationed at Fort Washington, in Portsmouth, in the State of New Hampshire. He entered the service, it appears, in September, 1814, in good health; but, by exposure to the weather, and other causes incident to the service, he was, on the fourth of October, of the same year, seized with a severe pulmonary disease, which rendered him totally unfit for service; and he was, by reason thereof, discharged from the service before "the time" for which he had been detached, was expired. It further appears, that he has never recovered his health, but has ever since been, and still is, totally disabled to perform any manual labor for the support of himself or family: wherefore, resolved by the committee, that said Bean is entitled to a pension, as, and for a total disability,—to commence on the 14th day of April, 1830.
